emained until 1 o'clock. During the time he remained at the Department he was in his private office and denied himself to all callers. He was in of the General Land Office, and it was given out that he was engaged in preparing a reply to the letter of Secretary Lamar. His private secretary told a STAR reporter that Mr. Sparks said he might have something for the press later in the day, but a friend of Mr. Sparks, who was with him in his private office, said that the fever which he has had for several days returned and obliged the Commissioner to go back to his rooms and to his bed. It is conjectured that the letter which Mr. Sparks is preparing is not a letter of resignation, and it is claimed that the Commissioner will take the ground that his former letter to Secretary Lamar was perfectly proper in form and matter, and that it did not admit of the construction placed upon it by the Secretary. The commissioner will therefore vindicate the course pursued by him and leave the President and Secretary to take what action they see fit in the premises. It is believed that he will compel his removal and not tender his resignation, although some claim that after he has sindicated himself. a STAR reporter that Mr. Sparks said he might have resignation, although some claim that after he has vindicated himself he will add that his resignation is subject to the pleasure of the President.

In Department circles the general belief is that Mr. Sparks will have to go whether he voluntarily retires or makes it necessar that the President should order his removal.

THE SECRETARY CONGRATULATED. number of Senators and Representatives, who com-mended warmly the course he had taken in regard mended warmly the course he had taken in regard to Mr. Sparks. The Secretary on Saturday authorized the following statement: "In view of the published statement that his letter to Commissioner Sparks had been submitted to and approved by the President before it was sent to the Commissioner, he wished to say that neither the President nor any other member of the Cabinet, and, indeed, no one outside of his own office, so far as he knew, had any knowledge whatever either of the receipt of the Commissioner's letter or his reply thereto until it was delivered to the President last evening." The Secretary wished that this statement be made public in justice to all concerned. The present action was taken, it is said, because it became necessary that there should be one head to the Department and not two, and this fact fully explained the present condition of affairs. The Second Controller's Report.

It shows that 51,002 cases have been settled, against 50,829 in 1886. The force meanwhile has een greatly reduced. During the fiscal year 1886, the average number of clerks employed monthly was 79. During the fiscal year 1887, the average number employed monthly was 62; the actual number on the rolls was 67. At the close of the fiscal year 1886 there was a reduction of 12 in the clerical force. A further reduction of 8 was made at the end of the past fiscal year; so that for the present year the roll of clerks numbers 59.

WHOLESALE DISAPPROVED.

The Plan that was Suggested in Petition of Citizens. As stated in THE STAR last Friday a petition from citizens of West Washington was filed over year ago with the District Commissioners direct-ing their "attention to a much-needed improve-ment." The petition set forth that nearly the entire population of that section resided north of M street, and the chasm of Rock Creek above that st. is crossed by but a single bridge, that at P st., obstructed by the double track of the Metropolitan Railroad. The petitioners urged that one or more additional bridges above M street were absolutely necessary. The expense of erecting ordinary bridges over the wide and deep chasm of Rock Creek, they said, would be enormous, and they believed that by a pian they suggested two or more of the streets lying between M and r streets could be extended across Rock Creek at less than the cost of a single bridge. "From Lyons' Mills," the petition says, "Rock Creek runs southeast about 1,800 feet to 0 street; thence it turns westward, and in about 1,000 feet reaches the eastern extremity of Dunbarton avenue. From this point a line drawn due north a distance of 1,300 feet intersects the creek at Lyons' Mill, so that a tunnel on this line 1,300 feet in length whould leave dry the bed of the creek for some 2,800 feet, and allow the streets to be extended across the chasm by embankments. Within a few hundred yards of that section of the creek there is earth enough above grade to make these embankments, and so far, with the addition of the excavations constantly going on for new buildings, to ordinary bridges over the wide and deep chasm o vations constantly going on for new buildings, to bring the whole section in course of time up to grade without expense. "The creek at 0 street and Boundary receives the contents of two large sewers, draining a district which will soon be crowded by a dense population.

Ella Johnson, an eight-year-old colored girl, was severely burned about the body about 10:30 o'clock this morning while on a vacant lot near the Baltimore and Ohio depot. A crowd of boys had built a fire on the lot, and the little girl stopped to warm herself. Her clothes took fire and before the flames could be extinguished she was badly burn-ed. She was removed to the Freedman's Hospital

A SERMON ON ANARCHISM .- The execution of the A SERMON ON ANARCHISM.—The execution of the anarchists was the theme of Rev. C. Herbert Richardson's sermon last evening at McKendree church. He said that these men were godiess and foreigners, and that they had abused the freedom which citizens of this country enjoy. He called attention to the fact that the headquarters of the anarchists were the saloons of Chicago and said that the bomb manufactured by the rumseller was more dangerous than those made by the anarchists. He concluded that persons who came to this country with no intention of becoming good citizens should be excluded; that the ilquor traffic should be prohibited, and the sanctity of the Bible maintained.

pecial Cable Dispatch to THE EVENING STAR. LONDON, Nov. 14 .- The scenes in London vester day were the most dangerous witnessed since the chartist riots. From the police point of view verything was admirably managed, but my own pinion and that of pearly all observers of th cene at Trafalgar Square is that if the guards had quare would have been carried against the police. The crowd was not disorderly or criminal. It is a monstrous libel on the part of the Times to declare that an attempt was made to place London at the mercy of a rufflanly mob with the intention of plunder. The meeting was called solely TO PROTEST AGAINST THE IMPRISONMENT OF O'BRIEN. Its political character was announced before MATTHRWS HAS BLUNDERED, AS USUAL, in dubiously hinting that a bona fide political meeting would be allowed and by setting up a claim that Trafalgar Square belongs to the queen, and that the people are permitted there only on sufferance. This position will be bitterly con-tested. An organizer tells me that a large meeting will be called next Sunday and every Sunday until the right of meeting is restored. The theory of obstruction is absurd. Trafalgar Square on Sun-days is as quiet as a market-place in the country. By Associated Press. The "Thunderer" Calls for Blood.

London, Nov. 14.—The Times hopes that the rioters in custody, especially the ringleaders, will receive exemplary punishment. "Behind these," it continues, "stand the greater criminals who in the press and otherwise labor to convert the English Sunday into a carnival of blood, for which the despicable broad ought to be shot." The Morning Post hopes that this will be the last attempt to resist those upon Thom the preservation of the lives and property of the citizens mainly depends.

The Daily News says: "We may congratulate the scene, and one of the party fired at McLean,

THE GOVERNMENT'S POSITION.

In an interview on Saturday evening Matthews, the home secretary, told Mr. Graham that the government would not permit the proposed meeting in Trafalgar Square. He said he believed that the executive was acting within its strict legal rights, and that the public was only allowed in the square on sufferance by the queen. He further stated that he wisned the question to be tried legally before the courts. Mr. Graham replied that he regretted the government's decision, because the precting would certainly be held and a graye re-SEVENTY-FIVE RIOTERS PUNISHED.

which will soon be crowded by a dense population. The discharge of these sewers already in summer has a perceptible influence on the atmosphere, and this effect must increase as population grows. It would be part of the proposed improvement to extend them several hundred yards toward their ultimate destination, the river. The proposed improvement would reclaim, it is estimated, between two and three hundred thousand square feet of ground, of which half lies in the bed of the creek, and the other half is overflowed by frequent freshets,"
